□ Waves of Impact: Community Support in Action □

Last quarter, we celebrated Imagine Pamlico's success in helping bring more than $530,000 in new funding into Pamlico County. This quarter, we're proud to share how those funds are making a tangible difference right here at home.

Through collaborative partnerships, Pamlico County Health Department, Hope Clinic, Pamlico Partnership for Children, St. James AME Church, and Bayboro Pharmacy have received vital support — strengthening health services, early childhood programs, and community wellness efforts across the county.

□ President Timothy Taylor Named 2025 Business NC Trailblazer □

We're proud to announce that Imagine Pamlico's President, Timothy Taylor, has been selected as one of Business North Carolina's 2025 Trailblazers — a prestigious honor recognizing exceptional leaders under 40 who are strengthening North Carolina's rural communities.

Each year, only a few recipients statewide earn this distinction. Timothy's recognition reflects his visionary leadership, commitment to community growth, and dedication to empowering others.

He will be honored at the Business NC Rural Economic Development Summit on October 15th in Hickory, NC.

Congratulations, President Taylor — your leadership continues to inspire Pamlico County!

Waves of Impact - Planning Towards the Future

☕ Nothing like a good planning session over coffee!

We love seeing community leaders come together. At Crema Brew, Bob Fuller (Imagine Pamlico's Co-Treasurer) and Dan Miller (CarolinaEast volunteer) met to talk about a big step forward: a medical pavilion in Pamlico County.

The vision? To complement existing medical services in New Bern and Pamlico and bring in what's still missing — all as part of Imagine Pamlico's Health & Wellness Initiative.

Exciting things are brewing for our community!

High Tide Highlights - Sharing the Good News!

▣ A full room and great energy at the Pamlico County Public Library last month for our FREE "AI in Grant Writing" seminar!

With over 30 attendees, this session—sponsored by the Small Business Center, Pamlico Community College and Imagine Pamlico—sparked powerful conversations and plenty of "aha!" moments.

- ▣ What participants had to say:
- ▣ "I learned SO much in just 2 hours!"
- ▣ "I had no idea it was as easy as this! I can't wait to learn more!"
- ▣ "WHY have I waited so long to learn about AI? It is game-changing!"

We're thrilled to see our community lean into new tools and opportunities for growth. Thank you to everyone who joined us—we can't wait to bring you more sessions like this! A Special thank you to our sponsors!

▣ Intern Spotlight: Maya Beatty ▣

We're thrilled to highlight Maya Beatty, a standout intern from this summer's SECU Public

Fellows Internship Program. Maya worked with Imagine Pamlico, contributing to community development efforts in eastern North Carolina. Her dedication and passion made a lasting impact.

The Captain's Log

Dear Friends,

When I think about Pamlico County, I see more than our beautiful waters, small towns, and winding roads! I see people with big hearts who care deeply for one another. That is what makes this place special. It's not the size of our community, but the strength of our spirit. Every nonprofit in this county, no matter how large or small, plays a role in keeping that spirit alive.

I know the work isn't always easy. Some days it feels like resources are thin, the needs are many, and the road ahead is long. But let me encourage you...what you do matters more than you know. Each meal served, each hand held, each youth mentored, each elder supported...these are seeds of hope planted in the soil of our community. And like any good seed, they will grow, even if we don't always see the harvest right away.

As we go forward, let us lift one another up, collaborate, and share wisdom and resources. When one nonprofit succeeds, our entire community rises with it. Together, we can ensure that Pamlico County continues to be a place where neighbors look out for each other and opportunities grow in even the most unexpected places.

So I leave you with this question for your organization to reflect on: Are we doing what we can? Not just to meet today's needs, but to plant seeds for a better tomorrow?

With gratitude and hope,

- Tim
President, Imagine Pamlico
